Solutions

1. Stories in music

1. Who is Andreas Vollenweider?

He is a Swiss musician who plays the harp.

2. Describe the difference between his electric and his classical harp.

The electric harp is louder than the classical harp.

3. How does Andreas Vollenweider tell stories?

He doesn't use words or paint or colours to tell his stories. He uses sound.

4. What does he say about silence?

He has recorded the silence in churches, mosques, temples, forests and gardens. He says that silence doesn't always sound the same.

5. Why does Andreas Vollenweider talk about a rainbow?

He compares a rainbow with an orchestra. The orchestra and rainbow have so many colours and you don't want to stop looking.
